Dear Mr. Jacobsen,

One of the first assignments that made accounting feel real to me was analyzing Lululemon's 10-K in my financial accounting class. I've worn their clothes for years, so seeing the numbers behind a brand I know made everything suddenly click. It was the moment I realized how much I enjoy understanding how companies operate behind the scenes, and it sparked my interest in exploring different paths within professional services. That's why I'm excited to apply for a Summer 2026 internship at Deloitte.

As a freshman accounting major in the Dolan School of Business (Class of 2029), I'm building a strong foundation through financial and managerial accounting, microeconomics, and business data analytics. I'm still exploring which area of the profession I'm most drawn to, and what I appreciate about Deloitte is the range of opportunities across audit, tax, advisory, and other service lines. I'm especially interested in learning how different teams approach problem-solving and contribute to clients in unique ways.

Before college, I served as Executive Producer of The Morning Devil, my high school's student-run digital media platform. Leading a team, planning weekly content, and managing tight deadlines taught me how to stay organized, communicate clearly, and collaborate under pressure—all skills that I know translate into the professional services world. Balancing this role alongside varsity soccer strengthened my work ethic and time-management skills, qualities I bring to everything I take on.

What excites me most about Deloitte is the idea of being surrounded by people who are both supportive and driven. I'm eager to contribute wherever I'm needed, learn from Deloitte professionals, and gain exposure to the day-to-day work that makes each service line unique. I'm curious, hardworking, and excited to explore where I can make the most impact.

Thank you for considering my application. I would be grateful for the opportunity to learn from and contribute to Deloitte this summer. I can be reached at 917-599-6767 or ava.buckley@icloud.com at your convenience.

Sincerely,

Ava Buckley
